

St. Louis, Missouri USA February 23-27, 2005

home

contact us

authors

reviewers

attendees

technical program

Processing your submission of a paper to SIGCSE 2005

Thank you for submitting your paper to SIGCSE 2005.

Please be patient while your paper is being processed.

1. Performing basic error checking on the co-author and paper information : Done

2. Attempting to upload files

Uploading file R:\DP4RDP\DP4RDP-final.pdf: Done

Uploading file R:\DP4RDP\DP4RDP-anon.pdf: Done

3. Updating database: Done

4. Retrieving information just added to the SIGCSE 2005 database:

Paper number: 293

Title: Design Patterns for Parsing

Password: dp4prdp1

Author: Stephen Wong

Institution: Rice University

State/Country: Texas/USA

E-Mail: swong@rice.edu

Co-author 1: Dung Nguyen

Institution: Rice University

State/Country: Texas/USA

E-Mail: dxnguyen@rice.edu

Co-author 2: Mathias Ricken

Institution: Rice University

State/Country: Texas/USA

E-Mail: mgricken@rice.edu

The following subject areas were processed for your paper:

CS1/2

Formal Methods/Theory

Object-Oriented Issues

Pedagogy

Programming Languages/Paradigms

Software Engineering

Using the above password, you may view both the above information and your submitted files at any time using the form at <http://www.cs.grinnell.edu/~sigcse/sigcse2005/submission.shtml>

This form also will allow you to update the submission information (such as addresses, paper title, etc.) or to update the submitted paper itself at any time until the paper submission deadline, Friday, September 10, 2004. (Separate instructions will be sent to the author of each accepted paper regarding possible revisions prior to publication in the Proceedings.)

This information will be repeated in an e-mail message that will be sent shortly.

Please notify the SIGCSE 2005 Program Co-Chairs, Douglas Baldwin and Paul Tymann, baldwin@cs.geneseo.edu, ptt@cs.rit.edu, should you find any difficulties in viewing or updating your paper information or the paper itself.

5. Sending e-mail confirmation : Done

Click here to go back to the main SIGCSE 2005 Symposium page.